Who is W.H.O.?

by Emilee Guernsey

Multiple clubs and organizations at CP require community service hours, but some students have a hard time finding any hours, especially if they don't have cars, according to English teacher Lauren Madrid.

Madrid has created an organization called WHO, which stands for Wolves Helping Others. Madrid created WHO in order to help students find community service all in one place, instead of it being scattered throughout the school. WHO can be found on the CPHS home page, in Naviance on the "What's New" tab, their website <https://sites.google.com/a/leanderisd.org/cphs-community-service-projects/> and also on their Facebook page called CPHS WHO... ## CP introduces three new clubs

by Avery Deen

There is an abundance of clubs here at CP, we have everything from an ultimate frisbee club to a lacrosse club to a film club to an automotive club. This year, three new clubs have been added to the repertoire: the Dungeons & Dragons club, the food allergy support group and the diabetes support group.

The two new support groups were both started by the school nurse, Karen Daniels... (cont. at cphswolfpack.org)
