

School News

Spring Semester Print Edition

Savannah Burchfiel

The print edition of the Wolfpack newspaper was unveiled May 22. This semester issue features classic favorites including feature stories, senior superlatives and thorough sports coverage. Newspapers will be available in Lab 7, along with Tracks year-books.

Talent Show

Savannah Burchfiel

The results are in! Junior Jessica Holcomb took first place with jaw-dropping vocals over piano. After a first-place win last year, sophomore Charlie Hooper returned to take second place with the addition of a blindfold to his violin performance. For third place, the Black Tea performance, including seniors Jack DeCiutiis, Donelvan Thigpen and Dave Hawks, played a rendition of Radioactive, ending the night with a promposal.

Finals Tips and Tricks

Miranda Campbell

Finals week is looming in the near future... Are you prepared? If your answer is no, then read on to find some tricks and tips that will aid in your success.

1. All-nighters are NOT a good idea. No matter what anyone says, you'll feel dead while taking the final and most likely forget everything you crammed into your brain in the wee hours of the morning.
2. Join a study group, preferably with really smart kids who adore the subject you're in. Picking their brains will help you remember the information better.
3. Eat chocolate. I'm not sure if that will actually help your brain, but it will help your heart. Treat Yo Self.
4. Positive thoughts! You're going to do great!

Jokes and Riddles

How do you make a fruit punch?
You give it boxing lessons!

What did the pig say at the beach
on a hot summer's day?
I'm bacon!

Why did Billy wear a helmet to bed?
So he could crash!

What gets bigger the more you take out of it?
A hole!

Surviving
the Summer
Heat

Paige's choice:

A Starbucks Iced Passion Tea Lemonade is the perfect summer drink for lounging by the pool or hanging out with friends. It is different (and way better) than a regular lemonade because it is not nearly as tart.

Cost: $3.25 for a Grande

Lauren's choice:

There's nothing like a gas station Coke slushie. It has all the glory of a glass of coke except with better ice. The cheapness makes it taste that much sweeter.

Cost: $1.60 at 7-Eleven

Miranda's choice:

Hubert's Lemonade is basically the only thing to drink this summer. It is tart and sweet simultaneously and goes great with being pool side. Buy the bottles in bulk because you'll be addicted in no time.

Cost: $0.47 at Walmart

Did you know?

You can find the rest of these stories, pictures and more online at www.cphswolfpack.org

Add "Journalism Advanced: Newspaper" to your schedule to become a part of the staff that brings you the semester newspaper and monthly Toilet Times.

